

A timeline of the government's new childcare policy

By September 2025, working parents will be able to claim 30 hours of free childcare a week, over 38 weeks of the year, all the way through from nine months up to their child starting school.

This new policy will be rolled out gradually over the next year and a half.

With workloads set to increase, it's crucial that businesses in the childcare sector look to retain staff and recruit right.

Most people in your line of work would require an Enhanced DBS Check by law to ensure that they're safe to work with children. Not to mention that businesses also need to make sure that each employee has a Right to Work.

If any of these checks are missed out because of rushed recruitment, employers could face fines, reputational damage, and significant implications to their day-to-day business.

If you need a helping hand with your employment checks, we're here to help. Here at uCheck, we make background checks simple for over 30,000 organisations just like yours, and we can help you confidently recruit the best talent.
